ASPIRING TO BE OUTSTANDING

FACILITATORS

SARAH SAUNDERS

Sarah has written and developed a number of teaching and learning training programmes which she has delivered to great acclaim, locally, nationally and internationally. As a practising teacher Sarah is able to offer motivational strategies and engaging tools, which have been rigorously tried and tested. Sarah's passion has always been to ensure that all students receive the best possible teaching by empowering teachers with practical support and innovative resources that are simple to implement.

RYAN PAYNE

Ryan believes that teaching should be engaging, challenging, student-led and fun. He has a passion for developing students' higher order thinking skills. Ryan brings his insatiable enthusiasm and a keen sense of humour to his training. With experience on both sides of the observation process, as a facilitator and as a practising teacher, he knows exactly what is needed to make every lesson outstanding.
