

Year 12-13 Summer Task

This task is based on working on your areas of development from your two biology papers you sat at the end of this year.

I will share a pack of exam questions onto your google classroom. These match the specification points that were assessed in your papers.

Using this exam question pack, please complete any questions which match up to your areas of development from the most recent biology assessment. The areas you need to develop on are the areas where you scored less than 50% in the papers. This information can be found on the feedback sheet which will be given out in class.

If you have no questions where you scored less than 50% please pick a selection of exam questions and complete these as it is still a good revision resource.

These exam questions can either be completed on paper or online. The mark scheme for these will be posted when we return to school in September.

This task is due in on your first biology lesson in September. Please either bring it to this lesson or submit it via google classroom before then.

If you have any questions, please email c.livick-smith@springwoodhighschool.co.uk
